

Syllabus for Plex2017, Spring

Math dept.: 352-294-2350 Pl. Put this in your phone.

Prof. Jonathan King: squash@ufl.edu

Prof. K office: 402 Little Hall (Top floor, NE corner, “Maximize  $x$ ,  $y$  &  $z$ .”) 352-294-2314 When I am not in the office then it is best to email me, as I don’t remotely pick-up phone messages. For an important message [e.g, missing an exam] please both email me and telephone the math secretary at 352-294-2350, leaving a detailed message.

Teaching: squash.1gainesville.com/teaching.html

Course: squash.1gainesville.com/course.Plex.2017g.html

@UF: <http://people.clas.ufl.edu/squash/>

Math Dept.: <http://www.math.ufl.edu/>

Text: Complex Variables and Applications, 9th edition by Brown & Churchill, ISBN: 978-007-338317-0. We’ll cover chapters 1–6, C-numbers, Analytic fncs, Elementary fncs, Integrals, Series, Residues and Poles, plus some additional topics.

Grades: Three in-class exams A,B,C each about 200pts. A (possibly optional) Final project, D. Some number of “pop” microquizzes, each 30pts.

IMPORTANT: I drop the lowest quiz grade. There is no make-up for the first missed quiz, regardless of reason (that is what the dropped-grade is for). For a later missed-quiz, a student might merit a make-up, given a valid reason.

Each month there is a CP (class participation) grade [45+45+45+25 for Jan Feb Mar Apr]. It is based on speaking in class and during office hours/appts., posting to our Archive, and in general helping the class to function well.

I will give you a written course-grade estimate no later than April 7th, the Withdraw date. (N.B: In computing course-grades, I may weight the exams/quizzes/CP slightly differently.)

Your obligation: If you are registered for my class (as opposed to auditing) then you have made an obligation to be here for all 42 class-days this semester, except for UF-acceptable reasons (illness, religious holidays, family emergencies, certain specific sports-team events). If you don’t want to make an obligation, then don’t register. (Be aware that pop-quizzes are partly for attendance, and there will be a pop-quiz on the class-day before, and after, Spring Break.)

The Plex Archive: This is a private URL and address that I will email to each student once Add/Drop has completed. You read the Archive by pointing a browser at the URL. You post to our Archive by emailing your mathematics to the address.

Consider our Archive as a Plex Wikipedia that you will be building during the semester, for everyone in class to use. (It is not a chat room. I’ll email out a classlist for chatting, but our Archive is for mathematics.)

Class-photo day: Wedn., 11Jan. If you want to be in a photo, then please prepare a name-card (I’ll explain this in class).

Letters-of-recommendation: If you wish a LOR from me, you need to have taken two classes with me (with an occasional exception for a Special-Topics course, e.g, the NT & CRYPTOGRAPHY course). In addition, for a LOR I need to be able to write about how you “think on your feet”, so I need you to speak often in class and/or office hours.

Prof. K’s Date-dyslexia: While I am American, the american way of writing dates, e.g 01/02/03 makes no sense to me. When writing to me or posting to the Archive, always use a word for the month, never a number. Write dates as Jan.20 or 20Jan. or January 20 or 20 January or similar. If you put in a year, always use all-4-digits. E.g 20 Jan.2017 or 2017 Jan.20 or Jan. 20, 2017, or similar.

Dates

Mon., 16Jan: MLK Day, no class.

Wed., 01Feb: Exam A.

Wed., 01Mar: Exam B.

Sat.-Sat. 4-11 March: Spring Break.

Wed., 29Mar: Exam C.

Fri., 07Apr: Withdraw date. I will give you a course-grade estimate on or before this date.

Thu., 13Apr: (Possibly optional) Plex Individual Project (PIP) PDF available, in the evening, for you to print,

Wed., 19Apr: Last day class, Games Party.

Thu., 20Apr: PIP due by noon, slid under my office door, 402 Little Hall.